WELCOME TO BUENOS AIRES CENTRE FOR INNOVATION AND CLIMATE ACTION

The Argentina Carbon Forum 2026 returns to Buenos Aires, a hub for sustainability, innovation and climate action in Argentina. Organized by GENESIS and MEXICO, this new edition confirms the Federal Capital as the traditional seat of the Forum, reflecting its economic dynamism and international projection.

The iconic Buenos Aires Stock Exchange will become the key meeting point for climate dialogue and the generation of innovative solutions, essential to accelerate the transition towards a low-carbon economy in the country and the region.

As the financial epicenter of Argentina, Buenos Aires offers the ideal framework for this edition, whose central objective is to deepen the analysis of climate finance. This year's agenda evolves to provide a comprehensive view: we will not only address the relevance of carbon markets, but also present an expanded spectrum of innovative financial instruments designed to accelerate decarbonization.

ARGENTINA CARBON FORUM 2026

A world of opportunities

In recent decades, global environmental challenges have generated growing concern about the effectiveness of existing policies and measures.

This has driven the transition to new regulatory approaches. As a result, traditional environmental objectives have been complemented, and in some cases even replaced, by market mechanisms that promote more balanced regulation based on cost-benefit analysis, optimized risk management and greater flexibility for the actors involved.

While Argentina has reserved its position regarding the use of market mechanisms under Article 6 of the Paris Agreement, the private sector continues to operate in existing voluntary markets, both internationally and regionally. These markets offer a viable alternative and do not require the explicit approval of the national state, allowing private sector actors to take advantage of climate finance opportunities and contribute to emissions mitigation.

On the other hand, the sub-national governments of Argentina have confirmed their intention to move towards the creation and use of regulated carbon markets within the framework of environmental federalism.

CARBON FORUMS

The Carbon Forums are the leading platform in Latin America for promoting climate action through carbon markets. With editions held in Mexico, Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, and Peru, these events bring together key stakeholders from the public and private sectors, promoting innovative solutions to address climate change.

At the Argentina Carbon Forum, our objective is clear: to promote carbon markets as a means of financing the climate transition in a dynamic and collaborative environment. Carbon markets are cost-effective tools, recognized as the most efficient and scalable mechanism for reducing emissions, financing sustainable projects, and generating a positive impact on the economy.

By participating in the Argentina Carbon Forum, you and your organization will join a regional and global movement that is shaping the future of the most effective financial tools to combat climate change. Furthermore, with flexible sponsorship options and extensive local and international media coverage, this forum guarantees visibility, relevance, and the opportunity to position yourself as a leader in sustainability and climate action.
